REQUITAL MAY BE THE BEST RACE

All Bonbt Dispelled on to His Staying Powers-Freehon a Lark After Winning the Menliantien - Weights for the Brighton Handlenp-Card for Aqueduct To-day. The much-discussed question as to Requital's staying powers was effectually settled on Saturday, when the bloodlike bay colt galloped home in front of Hastings and the rest in the Realizas, scoring the fastest time ever made in this old-school distance race of a mile and five fur-There never has been a doubt about Requital's wonderful turn of speed since he won the Fu-turity in 1895, with the best two-year-olds of a good year behind him. Ordinarily, the fact that on this occasion he went on and ran the mile out in 1:3916 would have satisfied the talent as to his quality as a stayer, but his dam having thrown nothing that could last beyond a mile left a doubt in the minds of many horsemen, and they wanted to see the colt by Eothen do the trick in actual contest when he reached his three-year-old form.

The test in the Realization was a good one for the pace was hot from the drop of the flag to the last quarter pole, where Hastings and his stable companion died away, while Bequital romped along to the winning post quite at his ease. The crowd that gathered around his box in the cooling-out paddock after the race saw a colt that was remarkably free from distress He scarcely appeared to take a long breath, and he snatched eagerly at the wisp of hay that Trainer Rowe offered to him, his fresh appearance causing David Gideon to remark:

"He looks as though he would be ready to go it again in twenty minutes."

Unlike many of the fastest borses in training. Requital is without a blemish or an out of any sort. His legs are as clean as a hound's tooth, and until he was taken sick with catarrhal fever last spring he had never missed a feed. His sickness early in the season prevented him from filling any of his early engagements, and it was only by exercising the greatest care and discretion that Rowe succeeded in getting the colt ready for Saturday's big race. Having ome out of the Realization without lil effects he should now train on and improve still further. If he does so it goes without saying further. If he does so it goes without saying that the best of the other three-year-olds will find him a hard customer to handle in the big race for coits of his age at the Sheepshead Bay meeting in the autumn.

Every admirer of a high-class horse regretted to see the poor showing made by Hastings in the Resellzation. The fast coit was not himself, and there are many experienced followers of the torf who doubt whether he will again this season be in condition to show the sterling good staff that undoubtedly is in him. In addition to the shoulder soreness, his pasterns are alling, and he is far from being in shape to do himself justice in a distance race. With Henry of Navarre temporarily in the hands of the veterinarian, Hastings out of form and the once promising Don De Oro a clisappointment, the stable which Mr. Belimont intends to ship to England next fall, is in a rather bad way. However, the admirers of the noted turfinan, who has done so much to make high-class racing a possibility in New York this year, all hope to see a turn in the tide of ill luck which has suddenly beset the Helmoton Stable, and, according to their view, if Mr. Helmont has the good fortune which he deserves on the other side, he will certainly win the Derby.

Derby.

Something like an epidemic of ill luck seems to be prevailing among the racing stables just now. It is now reported that none of the horses belonging to David Gideon can be got ready to race until late in the fail, if indeed they are is shape to start at all this season. The Iroquois-Carlotta colt that nine out of ten horsemen looked upon last fall as the probable winner of the Futurity of 1896, has been turned out for the season by Trainer Joyner, and all hope of landing the richest of American turf events has been abandoned. The colt, it will be remembered, worked faster than any yearling ever seen hereabouts in his trial last fail, beating the fast horse Waltzer at even weights in a sprint of three forlongs. He was most highly thought of until he was taken sick last spring, a deven then Owner-trainer J. J. Joyner hoped to see him round to in time for the big two-year-old race of the year.

Secretary C. V. Sass of the Brighton Beach Racing Association has announced the weights assigned to the various entries for the Brighton Handicap, at a mile and a quarter, to be run on the opening day of the runmer meeting at the Beach—Wednesday of next week. The list of elizibles, with their weights, is as follows:

This is strong field of handleap horses for the rehabilitated Beach, and it should produce a contest of the highest class if a fair share of the heavy weights go to the post. According to all indications racegoers will see much better sport at Brighton this summer than for many years at Brighton this summer than for many years past, the stake book showing that nearly all of the leading Eastern stables will race more or these at the old track by the sea during the com-ing meeting.

The new grand stand, built entirely of steet, shown to the merest detail, and open on front, shown to the merest detail, and open on front, was a sweat-box, which few except the regulars cared to endure.

The scene of sport shifts to-day from Sheepshead Bay to the comfortable though modest quarters of the Queens County Jockey Ciub at Aqueduct. The meeting will continue every day throughout this week and on Monday and Tuesday of next week thus filling out the entire interval between the closing at Sheepshead Bay and the opening at Brighton Beach. Opening of the Grand Circuit at Saginaw

To-morrow will witness the opening of the Grand Circuit of 1896, at Saminaw, Mich., and for seven weeks to come New York horsemen will no doubt follow with interest the perform ances of the harness borses as they move down the line from Union Park to Fleetwood. While Saginaw is nominally the first stand in the grand campaign, it is really only an intermediate link in the long chain of high class meetings which began in June, at Oakland Park, Denver, and which will continue on successive weeks until the campaigners reach Lexington next October. It is one of the peculiar features of the report that new towns are constantly coming to the front and making strong bids for the best of horses, so that even the professional followers of trotting are often at a loss to locate the principal meetings from one week to another. This week, for example, the little town of Lake Ge-neva, Wis., heretofore almost unknown on the parness-racing map, bangs up double the money offered at the Grand Circuit meeting at Saginaw, and, unless its track managers have resorted to the common practice of padding their entry list, the Wisconsin summer resort will probably be the scene of the best trotting meetng of the week. A majority of the high-class Western horses are named in the published entry list, while the Eastern contingent is represented by such stables as William Simpson's,

D. A. Snell's, and others.

With the summer campaign now fairly under way, enough has been seen of the horses in the East and the West to give a line on some of the performers that bid fair to figure prominently in the stake races of the Grand Circuit meeting at Fleetwood from Aug. 31 to Sept. 5. Half a dozen of the seventy odd entries in the 3:00 stake have thus far shown winning form at the circuit meetings, but at this distance Isaac Fleming's candidate, the speedy Page, by Polonius, seems to have the best of the argument. He has trotted in 2:14%, proved himself to be an enduring, consistent race horse, and, on public form up to date, he seems to outclass his field. The Southern mare Straight Line, 2:16%, who defeated Page in his maiden race at Pleetwood in June, has not fulfilled the brilliant promise of Southern mare Straight Line, 2:16k, who defeated Page in his maiden race at Pleetwood in June, has not fulfilled the brilliant promise of ager early spring performances, and unless she improves from now on two of the New York horses ought to beat her. A. A. Bouner's handsome stallion King Rene, Jr., who went into the campaign without a record, has won sverything he has started for thus far, taking a mark of 2:17 in his third race, and showing ability to beat 2:15. He should be formidable at Fleetwood even in the company of Page and Straight Line. It is understood that Mr. Bonner will place King Rene, Jr., at the head of his breeding stud after the bay horse completes the present campaign. He is chock full of the best blood in the stud book, his dam being Crape Lisse, by George Wilkes, out of Tarleton's dam, by thoroughbred Woodpecker, and he ought to make a name for himself as a trotting sire one of these days. W. H. Snyder's Mountain Maid, by King Clay, and Rensselaer Weston's Biack Cat, by Administrator Wilkes, are a couple of others who may have a look-in for a part of the money. The latter mare won her maiden race at Troy a few days ago, defeating a big field and taking a record of 2:28kj. She is in the Fleetwood stable of Frederic Bowne, who, like his consin, E. R. Bowne, gave up a seat in the New York Stock Exchange to grantify his liking for the trotters.

Orrin Hickok's green four-year-old filiy Dione, by Fros, the son of Electioneer, looks just how like the flower of the flock in the 2:30 stake, the crafty California reinsman having won second money with her at Chicago, forcing Baron Crisp out to a head in 2:1246. This was Dione's first start in company. She is owned by A. B. Spreckels of San Francisco, and she is likely to be the trotter that Haron Crisp will have to beat at Detroit next week if he wins the "M and M" stake. Sam Gamble told THE Sur reporter about this Eros four-year-old last April, saying that she making of a better mare than Huida, 2:0848. Two and perhaps three other candidates for "M who have seen her work this season, say she ought to beat 2:15.

If there is anything concealed in the big list of trotters named in the 2:24 class that can take the measure of Baron Crisp, 2:1256, it has yet to show its head. Piloteen, the Philadelphia fourpear-oid, by Pilot Medium, who trotted a half in 1:0514 in her race at Fleetwood during the June meeting, and who recently took a record of 2:1436 on the half-mile track at Detroit, is among the prospective starters, and another of of 2:14% on the half-mile track at Detroit, is among the prospective starters, and another of the good ones is John Mariner's Exotist mare, Miss Anne, 2:19%, whose owner believes she can beat 2:15. Hoth of these young trotters will probably start in the "M. and M." Stake at Detroit. Etiquette, 2:19%, by Alcantara; King Rene, Jr., 2:17; Jubilee, 2:17%, by Melbourne King, and Gayton, 2:18%, by Alierton, are other trotters entered that have beaten 2:20 in public this year.

this year.

Of the large field entered in the 2:10 stake at Fleetwood, early form favors Baron Crisp, if he starts in this race, which is doubtful, and excorporation Comisel William H. Ulark's fast horse Dick, by Elberton, who lowered his record to 2:12% in a brilliant winning race at Old Orchard, Me., last Thursday, Dick is a half Corporation Counsel William H. Clark's fast horse Dick, by Elberton, who lowered his record to 2:12% in a brilliant winning race at Old Orchard, Me., last Thursday, Dick is a half brother to the well-known stallion Chester, 2:12%, both tretters having for their dam the old-time campaigner Delilah, who gained a record of 2:34% at Albany about twenty years ago. The mare was by Eliack Jake or Hack Jack, an obscure Black Hawk horse of either the Vermont or the Long Island family. She was owned by the late State Senator Gilbert A. Dean of West Copase, N. Y., who bred both Chester and Dick. The latter was foaled in 1889 and the former one year earlier. With the exception of Beulah, the Harold mare that produced Beuzetta, 2:56%, and Early Bird, 2:10, it is probable that Delilah has now to her credit the fastest pair of trotters ever produced by one mare. The dam of Maxie (abb. 2:13%, came from the section where Delilah was bred, and as site was got by Black Jack, a son of Long Island Black Hawk, the question has been recently raised as to whether both of these noted brood mares were not daughters of the same horse. Among the 2:19 fyers that Dick will be asked to beat at Fleetwood are the fast California-bred four-year-old Derby Princese, by Charles Derby, who trotted in 2:15% at Windson, Ontario, last week; the Hamilia entry, Carillon, 2:16%, by Chimes: Nomad, 2:19, by Smuggler, and Bob Rysdyk, 2:16%.

The field in the 2:15 class comprises several of the fastest trotters on the turf, judged by their pure form. John Splan's Newcastle has beaten about everything he has met thus far in the West, cutting his record from 2:14% to 2:13% at the recent Chicago meeting. Bentom M. who trotted in 2:15% at the turf, judged by their pure form. John Splan's Newcastle has beaten about everything he has met thus far in the West, cutting his record from 2:14% to meet his match in the New England circuit. Ellorer, the entry of C. W. Williams, stepped out and won a race at Peoria a few days ago, trotting in 2:15% with impressive ease, i hopes to get another when Faifa foals to Alierton.

Major S. T. Dickinson's fast mare Roseleaf, who is entered in the 2:15 stake at Fleetwood, trotted a great race at the recent Chicago meeting, and she started a favorite at Windsor last week, but met with a mishap in the first heat and, it is said, pulled up lame. The Hamlin entry, Princess Royal, 2:20, like Eliorer, has been used as a brood mare since she gained her record as a two-year-old, in 1892. She is reported to be wonderfully fast this year, sithough she has not yet started in public. The Canadian mare Wanda, 2:174, and the handsome little New York trotter Nutshell, 2:15, are others that have shown up well. The Maryland stallion Orange Chief, who trotted in 2:13tj at Baitimore in May; C. W. Kellogg's good horse Azmon, 2:15te, and Rundie & White's Quartermarch, 2:14tg, will also bear watching, according to present reports.

Champton Scullers to Meet,

Admirers of sculling all over the world, es pecially in Great Britain and her colonies, are looking forward with interest to the result of the big match to be decided over the Thames championship course at London to-day. The principals are Charles R. Harding, the fastest English professional sculler, and James Stan-bury of Victoria, New South Wales, the cham-nion of the colonies bury of Victoria, New Bouth Waies, the champion of the colonies.

The match is for the championable of the world, the Sportamon challenge cup, now held by Harding, and a stake of £1,000. It is a case of extremes meeting, as Harding is a mere middet compared with his rival, who is a six-footer of the pronounced heavy-weight type, Britishers, it is said, have backed their man heavily, and await the issue with supreme considence.

To-day the first international race for the Seawanaka Corinthian Yacht Club's small boat will begin at Oyster Bay, while on Saturday the Larchmont Yacht

Club's big racing week will be inaugurated at Larchmont with a mammeth regatta for all Chester Griswold, Ficet Captain of the New York Pacht Club, has issued general orders No. 2, setting forth the programme of the club's ortheoming cruise.

On Monday, Aug. 3, the squadron will rendezrous at Glen Cove. L. I., in the morning, and at 11 o'clock there will be a meeting of Captains on board the flagship. The fleet will then make for Huntington harbor, and on the same day a race will be sailed for cups offered by the Commedore, finishing off Huntington Bay. The remainder of the schedule reads:

Tuesday, Aug. 4 - Huntington Eay to New London. Wednesday, Aug. 5 - New London to Newport. Thursday, Aug. 6 - The squadron will remain at an-

Friday, Aug. 7-Race off Newport for Goelet cups.

Monday, Aug. 10 -Vineyard Haven to Newport.

Should the squadron be prevented from mak ing New London, on Tuesday, Aug. 4, it will anchor at Morris Cove for that night, in which case Newport will not be reached until Thursday. During the cruise there will be the usual races for the Owl and Game Cock Colors, and s race for naphtha launches. The Regatta Committee will fornish details for the rone from port to port, and for all other racing events. Should any changes in these events be advisa ble, they can be determined upon at any meeting of the Captains. Captains are requested to provide their vessels with the Coston Night Signal N. Y. Y. C.; also to send a list of the names of their guests on board flagship.

Lord Dunraven's unsuccessful cup hunter Valkyrie III. will set her sail for the long cruise across the Atlantic to the coast of Scotland tomorrow morning unless the calculations of Capt. Dixon are at fault or supplementary instructions are received from her owner. The crew are comfortably fixed on board of the yacht and had a holiday yesterday. She is still under the bows of the Morgan line steamer Chaimette in ketch rig. Her mainsail and jigger are bent, but her head sails still remain on deck. Some difficulty has been experienced by her crew in overhauling the rigging, all of which was stowed away without being tagged, her crew in overhauling the rigging, all of which was stowed away without being tagged, and before the various lines were rove in their proper places peak halliards, sheets, and downhauis were pretty thoroughly mixed.

Despite the report to the contrary the spars will not be scraped and varnished, but her masts will be liberally "slushed" with grease, which will last until the yacht reaches the Clyde. Capt. Dixon said yesterday that he did not think it would be necessary to haul Valkyrle out of water, and as far as he could see she had sustained no damages since she was laid up last fail. This statement is at variance with that of an old salior who has been a preminent figure about Erie Basin for many years. He says that the spot where the English yacht lays in an excellent place for worms, and, as she is not coppered, he thinks it highly probable that the borers have aiready created some havoo with her underbody.

Ogden Goelet's new 200 foot steam yacht, which is now being built on the Clyde from G. L. Watson's design, it is said will mark a new era in steam yachts, and that her internal arrangements will differ materially from that of any other yacht afloat. She will have three decks, and visitors, instead of reaching the quarter deck by the usual companion ladder at the slide, will be received in a spacious apartment opening from the starboard side on thesaloun deck. This is certainly a novelty with a vengeance, but whether it will prove popular or not remains to be seen.

Up to June 13 Howard Gould's Niagara had started in ten races and won 200 in prizes. She finished first in four races and was second in two. The Saint, on of eleven starta, won six firsts and one second, while the Penitent's record in eleven races was two firsts and four second prizes.

Any number of 30-footers are now at Newport. They will shortly begin racing there for valuable prizes offered by the summer residents. The annual dinner of the Gravesend Hay Yacnt Club was held Saturday night in the pavilion at Ulmer Park. Nearly two hundred covers were laid, and the jolly yachtsmen and their friends did ample justice to the banquet. An excellent entertainment of the variety character followed.

Breezy Weather for the Hempstead Bay

HEMPSTEAD, July 12.-The annual ladies' day and regatta of the Hempstead Bay Yacht Club was held yesterday over a ten-mile course opposite the club house on Elder Island, which is situated in the Great South Bay, and about two miles cast of Long Beach. The wind was blowing a two-reef breeze all day, consequently the racing was very close and exciting Several ollisions were narrowly averted owing to the inability of the beliasmen to hold the tillers steady. The regatta was the most successful that has ever been held by the club. Over 500 comen in attractive yachting costumes witnessed the racing from the the plazza of the club house. Miss Lilian Suedeker, a pretty young society woman of Brooklyn, sailed the roung society woman or browning, as wim-aloop Mystery, hefore the racht racing a swim-ming contest was decided. If He Does Not, the Umpires Have Received Instructions How to Act, WASHINGTON, July 12 .- "It will be time enough to cross the Tebeau bridge when we ome to it," said President Young this evening; but as a matter of fact, the time in which the Cleveland's captain may pay the fine imposed by the National League will not expire until tomorrow. Meanwhile, the umpires under my control have received instructions just how to act in case the fine is not paid within the stipulated time of ten days. This is a matter, how present. Therefore I must decline to say what than that they cover the ground fully. There is no disposition on the part of the Board of Directors of the National League to impose any unnecessary or harsh measures upon the Cieveland Ciub players or management, but discipline is all important and regulations must be adhered to.

"Clereland will play at home with the New Yorks to-morrow afternoon, and it is possible that all matters at issue between the league leaders and the Board of Directors may be straightened out satisfactorily before the umpire calls play. For this reason it would be manifestly unfair to attempt to prejudice the case, which is so all important to the interests of the national game. In the event that Capt. Tebrau, backed up by President Robison, persists in his avowed determination not to pag he fine imposed upon him, then and not until then will it be time for action resulting from such a refusal."

CINCINNATI, July 12.-In the seventh inning to-day, with the score five to two against them, the Brooklyns bunched their hits and, aided by Miller's error, succeeded in tieing the score. In the eighth the home team pounded Harper hard, making five singles and a double, scoring four runs. The visitors could not hit the ball in their half of the ninth, and Cincinnati made it eight straight wins. The features of the game were Burke's fielding and Miller's catch of Ander-son's fly off right-field fence, with the bases filled. Attendance, 11,198. Score:
